

Working scientifically in the new science GCSEs

The course will be led by Ian Powell

RC207/G03

Dates:	Tuesday 25 June 2019
Duration:	9.00am to 12.45pm followed by lunch
Location:	John Ferneley College Scalford Road Melton Mowbray LE13 1LH
Activity fee:	Lunch and refreshments incl.
	State funded school £95.00+VAT
	Fee paying school £125.00+VAT

Summary

Working Scientifically is an essential component of the new GCSE curriculum. We will explore the different strands within Working Scientifically and look at strategies for embedding these skills within teaching, to support students in the new GCSE examinations

Outcomes

You will be able to:

- develop your understanding of the Working Scientifically strand of the curriculum and consider progression routes within the strand
- explore how to embed strategies to support students working scientifically
- develop and appraise relevant resources, tools and techniques and learning in your school

Click here to BOOK NOW

Or cut and paste the link below into your browser:

<https://www.stem.org.uk/cpd/451125/working-scientifically-new-science-gcse>

If you have not done so already, you will need to register with STEM Learning website to book your place, but it's a quick and easy process.

www.stem.org.uk

Working to achieve a world-leading education for all young people in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM)

